Education start-up raises ₹25 crore from HT Media

HT Media has invested ₹25.5 crore in digital education start-up Digiperform. The start-up offers training in digital marketing in 14 states across India. Launched in 2014, it offers short-term skill training for job seekers, working professionals and business owners to build digital skills. "This investment will add momentum to our capital raising, and supports our focus on marketing in order to accelerate brand awareness and presence across India," said Digiperform's CEO Manu Jolly. Digiperform works on a hybrid training model — a blend of classroom, online and virtual systems of learning.

The hearing in a contempt petition moved by Reliance Communications against the department of telecommunications for failing to provide a no-objection certificate for spectrum sale to Reliance Jio Infocomm has been adjourned by three weeks. This comes week after after both the companies sought more time to negotiate. The two companies also said they would move the Telecom Disputes Settlement and Appellate Tribunal seeking clarity on past dues.
